SUMMARY

Purposeful, communicative and responsible person with an active lifestyle. During my career, I have learned to work and find common ground with different people, this helps solving problems in different situations and responding quickly to changing circumstances. I'm constantly striving to learn and acquire new skills and I have a good work ethic. This has resulted in my recent diploma as a full stack developer. During my last job I was awarded 4 times as the best sales manager of the year.
